

BEST HI-FI STORAGE/NETWORK PLAYER

Melco N1ZS20/2

A FASCINATING ALTERNATIVE to a conventional network player, the N1ZS20/2 music source hosts a pair of 1TB SSDs for storage, backup and playback to a USB-connected DAC or networked streamer. It brings out the best in DACs at a range of prices, and is especially impressive when used with modest digital converters. Playing a wide variety of music, the main impression is of clarity and focus, allowing the detail of instrumental timbres in particular to be enjoyed. It simply seems to enable the DAC to give more of itself, to provide a performance that sounds tighter and more of a piece. It's a trick that it pulls off time after time, regardless of file format or quality of recording.
